PRODUCTS: Adam Matthew Digital works with leading libraries and archives from across the world to produce creative and powerful online research and teaching resources. From January 2011 our new company – Adam Matthew Education – will be servicing our US and Canadian customers from our downtown office in Chicago.

Our humanities and social sciences collections make available manuscripts and rare printed sources that are both detailed enough for scholarly research and accessible enough for undergraduate use.

New products of note for 2010/2011 include: Medieval Family Life; Confidential Print: Middle East, 1839-1969; Jewish Life in America, c1654-1954; London Low Life; Foreign Office Files for India, Pakistan and Afghanistan, 1947-1980; and Slavery, Abolition and Social Justice.

Our conference representatives will also be available to discuss: The North American Discovery Package – One of three “themed packages” aimed at enabling libraries to obtain a range of digital resources at a greatly discounted rate. The package covers seven individual online collections.

AVAILABILITY: By the end of 2010, Adam Matthew Digital will have 28 online resources and three “themed packages” available to purchase at a library level. Our resources are available to universities, community colleges, public libraries and other public institutions/archives.

DESCRIPTION: Please visit our website – www.amdigital.co.uk – for availability, detailed descriptions and pricing information on all our collections. Free, four-week personal or institution-wide trials are available. Please see www.amdigital.co.uk/trials to sign up.

resources and technologies that provide the most successful ways for people to search, find, use and share information. Through innovative, user-centered discovery technology, ProQuest offers billions of pages of global content that includes historical newspapers, dissertations, periodicals, research reports, multimedia, government documents, manuscripts and much more.

The company is nearing launch of an all-new ProQuest platform that will transform delivery of several highly-regarded individual platforms into a consolidated research experience that will encompass all ProQuest family products over time. We are also pleased to announce that the upcoming release of RefWorks 2.0 will offer an enhanced solution for online research management, writing, and collaboration. Inspired by its customers and their end users, ProQuest is working toward a future that blends information accessibility with community to enhance research and learning.

Thank You

The Charleston Information Group, LLC. would like to thank all the exhibitors who have participated in this year's Charleston Vendor Showcase. Your support is greatly appreciated! And many thanks to all those who visited with our exhibitors. We hope your experience has been useful in learning more about what's available in the exciting world of electronic resources, publishing, and bookselling.
